This is one of the four books in the CPA Review series designed to help CPA candidates prepare for the exam. Financial accounting, referred to by the AICPA acronym FARE, is the fourth section of the four-part exam. The book begins with a discussion summarized from Gleim's CPA Review: A System For Success on general test preparation. This is followed by 20 study units, each containing an outline (based on the AICPA Content Specification Outlines) and multiple-choice questions with answers.
