This revised software package allows candidates to expand their CPA preparations study programme or focus on specific trouble spots. Two modes are offered which the user can utilize depending on what they want to achieve at a given time. Study mode is a flexible format that allows the user to tailor their study time according to their needs and exam mode is based on the real experience of taking an exam with the option of choosing two different grading methods. The two methods of grading are: by computer, meaning that the computer will grade the CPA candidate based on the answers for questions and key words for the essays; or by self-grading, this method allows the candidates to take the exam and grade it themselves based on a series of questions the computer will generate.
